FOREWORD

An educated and awarded person is a need for success of any democratic set up. We have, therefore, been witnessing enormous expansion and extension of facilities being made available to get the interested persons educated.

From the original formal approach of Govt. controlled educational institutions in this area, we have, now, seen such institutions are being also run by private organisations. Such facilities are, thereafter, being made available to the learners through Correspondence/Distance learning mode.

In this publication, however, only forty- three Universities and nine Open Universities are included but since many more such institutions are entering in this area the readers, are, therefore, required to be always ready to seek latest information from readily available sources

This publication will be useful to such youths, their parents and career counsellors who aspire to widen the scope of learning.

Suggestions to improve this publication are welcome..
